

Reverend Breanna Dahl, Trinity United Methodist Church, Madison:

Jesus said, "I have come that you may have life and have it abundantly." Part of having an abundant life is having a job that pays you enough so you don't have to stress out over paying for housing, food, insurance, etc. As a Christian, my faith calls me to work for justice so that all may have that abundant and full life that Jesus spoke of. My faith pushes me to fight for fair wages for workers in all sectors. We must raise the "minimum" wage so that it is a living wage. So that all may earn enough to care for their families and live full and abundant lives.
